Stuph & Thangs

PHOOD FRIGHTERS FIND SUCKERS IN NEWS MEDIA

One of the wonders of this day and age is the fact that newspapers, T.V. & Radio news people continue to be set in their ways for almost any kind of hand-out from people with halfbaked ideas and axes to grind and they will splash almost any kind of story without giving a moment of thought to the source or trying to check out the facts. The average American has been terrorized, stampeded and thrown into turmoil by some of the silliest stuph ever recorded because the news purveyors figure if it is sensational or scary they can get a break in the news and then explain how they were suckered in later with small stories well hidden in the news pages, but never on T.V. or Radio is the true story related to set the record straight. Two perfect examples recently cropped up. The other day four Canadian doctors let it be known that the Canadians are spookier than other doctors' anyhow. (CONT. ON PAGE 5)

Cowboy's Chores Become Popular Competitive Sport

Fort Worth - Rodeo - one of the fastest growing sports in America - is unique because it is an outgrowth of a cowboy's work-day chores. Sure, a lot of frills and show business have been added to appeal to a broader audience, but to the knowledgeable fan, the biggest drawing cards are the events which demonstrate a cowboy's skill at ranch-related work. Roping is one of these events, and 70 (CONT. ON PAGE 18)

4-H Roundup Presents "Cream of Crop"

College Station - It's that time again - State 4-H Roundup time. The event annually presents the "cream of the crop" among 4-H members throughout Texas. This year's Roundup will be held on the campus of Texas A&M University, June 8-9. Major events of Roundup include the State 4-H Food Show and competition (CONT. ON PAGE 18)

April Red Meat Production Off 4%

Washington, May 18 (USDA) - Commercial red meat production for the United States in April 1978 totaled 8.1 billion pounds, down 4% from April 1977, according to the Crop Reporting Board. January-April total red meat output at 32.7 billion pounds was 8% (CONT. ON PAGE 18)

NCA Recommends Counter- Cyclical Import Quotas

Washington - The National Cattle Association (NCA) today recommended a counter-cyclical approach to quotas under the Meat Import Act of 1984. This and other recommendations were made during a House Ways & Means subcommittee hearing on proposed changes in the law. Utilizing NCA's proposals to the subcommittee on trade were Richard A. McDougal, Lovelock, Nev., president of the association, and Sam Washburn, Fowler, Ind., chairman of the NCA foreign trade committee. McDougal urged that Congress adopt the Beef and Pork bill (H.R. 1023), which includes the counter-cyclical approach and which previously was passed by the Senate. He pointed out that the counter-cyclical quota formula could provide more stable supplies of beef and pork over the length of the 10-year cattle cycle, benefiting both producers and consumers. Quotas would be in inverse proportion to domestic beef supplies - increasing when U.S. production was down and decreasing when production was cyclically large.

Imbalance Between Production Costs, Prices During Past Three Years Was Hardship, Higher Livestock Prices Were Overdue

Wolf Point, Mont., May 5 - Livestock producers and other farmers should not be criticized for the higher prices that they're now receiving. Howard H. Jones, director of economics, policy analysis, and budget for the U.S. Department of Agriculture told the Wolf Point Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture's Annual Livestock Show and Sale here. "People quickly forget that for the past three years, meat at the grocery store has been a bargain at the expense of the U.S. livestock producer. Many people do not know what's happened to the livestock industry since the 1975 record inventory of 132 million head. In 1976, the inventory dropped to 127.9 million; in 1977, it decreased again to 122.8 million. As of Jan. 1, the cattle inventory was only 118 million head. (CONT. ON PAGE 6)

Farm Prices Defended

Next January, the inventory will be even lower," Hjort said, adding:

"At the same time, prices received by farmers for their beef averaged $82.30 per hundredweight in 1976, $83.70 per hundredweight in 1977, and $84.50 per hundredweight in 1978.

"This record decline in inventory kept meat prices low, even though livestock producers have paid sharply higher prices for feed, fuel, machinery, and other inputs. And, if you add the severe droughts in the West and Southeast, producers had a doubly hard time. Comparing only cash out-of-pocket production costs of about $40 per hundredweight for feeder cattle, the cow/calf operator and the commercial feeder in the Great Plains both have lost from $5 to $10 per hundredweight since 1975. It was not until early this year that prices rose above $40 a hundred.

"As a result of this severe imbalance between production costs and prices received by producers, we've had the sharpest decline in cattle inventory in history."

Hjort explained that there will likely be lower beef supplies for the next few years. "It appears that 1978 production will be about 3 percent less than 1977's 26 billion pounds, with more fed beef supplies lower, and no beef slaughter. Prices in coming months and years are going to increase further, as a result of lower supplies, and the reasons this will happen must be understood by the consuming public."

these fellows warned that a lady had a violent allergic reaction to a substance called gum tragacanth and warned one and all to beware of the sauce put on hamburgers by a big hamburger chain because it contained gum tragacanth. So what? The FDA says this substance is used freely in baked goods, relishes, meat products, gravies, juices and processed fruits without complaints. The facts are that some people get equally violent allergic reaction from milk, eggs, pepper, strawberries and thousands of things. It just happened this unfortunate lady is allergic to a substance which just about everyone else consumes with comfort and even relish. So what? But it made headlines and probably hurt that hamburger chain in the process for no useful reason at all. Then comes one known as Dr. Barry Commoner, a notorious consumer advocate agitator. His claim to fame is that he works for the Washington University Center for the Biology of Natural Substances in St. Louis. Commoner claimed that trying hamburger produced mutations if done at high heat. He warned that this circumstance MIGHT indicate that hamburgers so cooked MAY cause cancer. The news media grabbed this sucker pitch and ran with it full speed. They never bothered to find out that Dr. Commoner released his theory prematurely, in order to sucker the news people into giving him a Big Play prior to his presentation of his paper at the American Society of Microbiology at Las Vegas. Before this body his wild guesses would probably get the lack of attention they deserved, so he tricked the news people into giving him national publicity and a prominence undeserved.

Allan Grant, president of American Farm Bureau called Dr. Commoner's essay a "cheap shot," which is certainly better than it deserved. The National Livestock and Meat Board pointed out that Commoner's tests proved nothing of the kind and pointed out that the incidence of cancer, except lung cancer, has either been decreasing or showing little change over the past 25 years and that during this period the ingestion of hamburgers and other beef has reached record proportions and there had been no scientific study to support Commoner's theory, no tests, no nothing. Just a wild guess that was good for publicity and nothing else.

He, hummy, hum! Remember all that poppycock the Phood Plighters put out about how deadly fluoridation of water to prevent tooth decay. The results? The study proved that "there was no evidence that fluoridation does ANY harm."

So we will continue to enjoy hamburgers, laced with gum tragacanth and washed down with fluoridated water and anxiously await the next Doomsday announcement from the Phood Plighters with the same fear & tremblin' as tomorrow's comic strips.

NCA Taskforce Cites Benefits From 2,4,5-T, Unfounded Attacks

Denver — In a statement prepared by a special taskforce committee, the National Cattlemen's Association has expressed strong opposition to the removal or restriction of the herbicide 2,4,5-T for any of its currently registered uses.

Concerning the health and safety of the product, the group said that it has been used as an invaluable tool in food, fiber and timber production for more than 25 years. In the last quarter century, more than 70 million acres of land have been sprayed with 2,4,5-T in the U.S. alone. In this period, thousands of people have been exposed, many of them annually; yet not one case of harm to man or animal has been substantiated.

The report pointed to the highly beneficial use of the chemical in terms of energy, labor and capital savings where dense brush and weeds threaten present and future productivity.

The official industry position will be presented to the Environmental Protection Agency during the Rebuttable Presumptive Agency Registration process, which ends July 5. Supporting scientific data will also be forwarded to the EPA for review.

The special taskforce, which included scientists as well as cattlemen, was called together by Bill Krejci, Fairmont, Neb., chairman of NCA's environmental management committee.

The group's work was coordinated by D. B. Polk, state resource conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service in Texas. Members of the taskforce include: John Matthews, Abilene, Tex.; Dr. W. J. (Dub) Waldrip, Lubbock, Tex., chairman of the NCA research committee; John Murrill, Crowley, Tex.; Gary K. Westmoreland, Casper, Wyo.; Jerry Schickelanz, New Mexico State University; Dr. Boyce E. Day, University of California, Berkeley; and Bob Ellis, Tulsa, Okla., vice chairman of NCA's environmental management committee.

During a recent meeting in Denver, the taskforce members said that as a result of inaccurate and one-sided news coverage, the use of 2,4,5-T has become a highly charged emotional issue. Many environmental groups have charged that the use of the herbicide creates health hazard to human and animal life.

The group refuted such claims by pointing to the vast body of scientific research which clearly shows that the herbicide: 1) Does not accumulate in the environment; 2) Decomposes rapidly following application; 3) Is bene-

SBA Offers Disaster Loans To Farmers

On April 11, 1978, 102 Texas counties were declared as disaster areas by A. Vernon Weaver, Administrator of the Small Business Administration. Most counties were declared because of extreme drought conditions, but other reasons include hail, high winds, and excessive rainfall.

A disaster declaration automatically activates SBA's Farm Disaster Loan Program. Farmers and ranchers in the declared counties and the 82 adjacent counties who were adversely affected by these disaster conditions may be eligible for low-interest SBA loans. These loans are available for losses not already covered by insurance or AISC disaster or deficiency payments.

The following formula is used by SBA in calculating the amount of eligible loss on a disaster area: $\text{Planted} \times \text{Established Normal Yield} \times \text{Percentage of Loss} \times \text{Market Price} = \text{Recovery equals Eligible Loss}$. Interest rates on Small Business Administration Physical Disaster Loans for businesses are 9% for the first \$250,000 and 6 7/8% for any remaining amount; with a maximum of \$500,000. Loans are based on the ability to repay and have a maximum maturity of 30 years, although the average maturity is 5-7 years.

Up to 50% of the eligible loan amount may be used to pay outstanding obligations and for reasonable operating expenses including living expenses. The balance must be held for production costs in the new crop year. Texas farmers and ranchers who suffered drought damage to 1977 crops or resulting financial losses may contact the nearest Small Business Administration office for additional information. SBA locations include Dallas, San Antonio, Lubbock, Amarillo and Houston.

MERRICK COW SETS WORLD RECORD AT RIO VISTA FARMS

that Castillo 160, a four-year-old pure-blood, produced a record 114 fertile eggs in only seven transfer procedures resulting in 83 confirmed pregnancies. That's a surprising 73 percent success rate. The cow was bred to Extra to calve naturally on February 28. She has been examined safe in calf.

Both the number of fertile embryos and confirmed pregnancies is a record for an individual animal in any breed in a 12 month period. Dr. Perry said that the cow has received normal handling while in the program. He stated that because the flushing or transfer procedure to remove the fertile embryos is non-surgical, the cow could continue on in the program indefinitely. He added that she would be bred during her next heat period.

Dr. Perry commented on the impact this cow will have on the Simmental breed. "More will be known about this cow's performance and production capabilities than any other female in the history of the cattle business because of the number of offspring she has produced and the number of bulls she was bred to." "She is a very good cow, typical of all the cattle Merrick has in our program, and she certainly deserves to be in a transfer program," he added.

Ward Merrick III, owner and operator of Merrick Farms, said the cow Castillo 160, typified the kind of cattle that Merrick Farms has been striving to develop. "She is an outstanding Simmental female, there's no argument about that, but she also has the

Exciting News About Rio Vista Futurity

Starting with the 1979 Futurity, there will be two additional classes. In order to give our clients and fellow Simmental breeders an even better showcase for their outstanding cattle, we will be adding a get-of-sire class and a produce-of-dam class.

We expect that these classes will become the two most prestigious classes in the Futurity. There will be elegant trophies for each class and there will be no additional entry fees required.

The get-of-sire class entries must be four animals in the Futurity sired by one bull. These animals may be of any age and of either sex. They do not have to have the same owner.

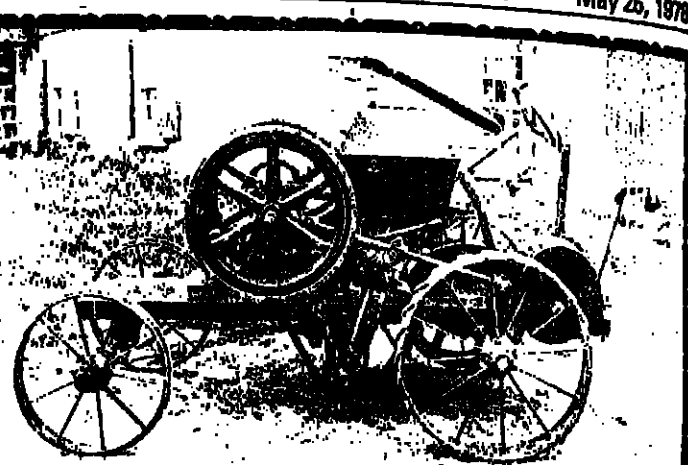

The produce-of-dam class entries must be four animals in the Futurity produced by one dam. These animals may be of any age and of either sex. They do not have to have the same owner.

In some 30 contests and demonstrations, ranging from horse and livestock judging to public speaking and demonstrations on safety and home environment.

All in all, some 1,500 4-H boys and girls will be competing for top honors in the various contest areas, points out George McArthur, 4-H and youth specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the parent organization of 4-H. These youth have qualified for the state competition by winning top honors at county and district levels. This year's Roundup will also offer a new attraction — a State 4-H Project Show. This show provides an opportunity for 4-H members to exhibit their handiwork and expertise in some 25 project areas ranging from photography and creative arts. Entries will be judged from 7 to 9 p.m. June 6 and will be on display the next day.

Entries in the State 4-H Food Show will be judged the morning of June 6 and awards will be presented at 8:00 p.m. The Roundup will officially open with ceremonies at 8:30 p.m. June 8, notes McArthur. Distinguished service awards will be presented by the Texas 4-H Foundation to five outstanding individuals, organizations and businesses.

Maine-Anjou Field Day Planned In August at Coleman

Coleman — The Texas Maine-Anjou Association is planning a Field Day for the latter part of August at the Rhone Ranch at Coleman, according to Paul Leonard III, Fort Worth, president of the association.

Tentative plans call for emphasis to be placed on a seminar for juniors on selection, fitting and showing of steers and heifers. "The Rhone Ranch has been one of the leading buyers of top quality high percentage and purebred Maine-Anjou for the past several years, and has developed one of the state's leading herds of Maine-Anjou cattle," Leonard said.

During the opening assembly, the 4-H Foundation is the service organization of 4-H in Texas.

A number of scholarships will also be presented to outstanding 4-H members. These are being provided through the 4-H Foundation by the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, Raymond Dickson Foundation, Texas Farm Bureau and C. J. Davidson.

Competition in the various contests begins bright and early on June 7. At a special noon luncheon, 28 outstanding 4-H adult leaders will be recognized by the 4-H Foundation.

A "Panorama of Contests" that afternoon will feature top entries in the various contest areas. Roundup activities will officially conclude with a recognition assembly at 8 p.m. to honor top award winners in all contests and donors of contest awards, adds McArthur.

Hunter To Receive 4-H Award June 6

College Station — Warren Hunter of Nacogdoches, who serves as advertising manager for Texas Farm Products, will be recognized for his longtime support of the 4-H program in Texas during the 1978 State 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M University, June 6. Hunter will receive a special plaque from the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation at 6:00 p.m. ceremonies opening this year's Roundup. below last year. Change by individual components: beef, down 3%; veal, down 12%; pork, down 2%; lamb and mutton, down 1%.

Comparing April 1978 with April 1977:

Beef production at 1.9 billion pounds was down 4%. Head kill at 3,180,400 was down 3%. Average live weight dropped 10 pounds to 1028.

Veal production at 50 million pounds declined 15% from a year ago. Calf slaughter of 381,800 was 21% below last year but average live weight rose 8 pounds to 242.

Pork production totaled 1.1 billion pounds from the 6,488,700 head killed. Pork production was down 2%. Head kill was down 5%, but average live weight increased 1 pound to 112. Preliminary commercial lard production was 80 million pounds, down 4% from a year earlier.

Lamb and mutton production declined 18% to 28 million pounds. Head kill at 448,000 was down 20%, while average live weight rose 1 pound to 112. Points up the need for watchfulness and care by all livestock owners, says Dr. M. B. (Ootton) Meadows, Director of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Screwworm eradication program, Meadows reports the case was treated May by rancher A. G. Crosby of Leakey. He collected a larvae sample for identification. The infested calf was treated two miles southwest of Voss. This is hundreds of miles from the only two other known 1978 Texas screwworm cases: one in Hudspeth County east of El Paso — the other in Presidio County southwest of Marfa.

of the best ropers in the country will be in Fort Worth June 3 and 4 to compete in the fifth annual Windy Ryon Memorial Roping to benefit the American Heart Association. Among them will be holders of 26 world calf and steer roping championships.

Forty-three ropers will compete in calf roping on Saturday, June 3, and Phil Lyne and Gary Ledford will go head-to-head in a $2,500 winner-take-all matched roping. Last year's Ryon calf roping champion, Roy Cooper, will be on hand to defend his title. Cooper also won the recent Superstars calf roping.

It is the steer roping scheduled for Sunday, June 4, however, which should provide the most interest for the 15,000 fans expected to attend. Steer roping requires an oversized arena not available at most rodeos. The Windy Ryon Memorial Arena, located at the intersection of Loop 820 and Highway 287, just north of Fort Worth, was built specifically to bring the rare event to Fort Worth area fans.

Roy "Fuffy" Thompson will be defending his 1977 Ryon steer roping title. He will face stiff competition from the 88 other ropers entered in the event, including current world steer roping champion Guy Allen.

Walt Arnold, 1988 world champion steer roper, is entered in both steer and calf roping this year, but it is steer roping which he favors most. "Of all the rodeo events, steer roping requires more timing, skill and horsemanship," he says.

From that beginning, roping has developed into a highly technical sport, which Arnold describes step-by-step. "It's a timed event. The roper and his horse enter the box and the barrier (a string) is set. When ready, the roper gives a nod and the steer, usually 550 to 750 pounds, is released. The roper drops his loop around the steer's horns, lays the 'trip' from the point of the right shoulder under the right hip and moves to the left at about a 90-degree angle.

The steer is turned around and bedded down as gentle as possible. The roper then cuts the rope and brings the steer to you. Then you holter when you cross and the steer three feet. The steer must remain tied and on the ground for six seconds. The time ends when the roper gives slack to his rope.

Many people think that the whole idea is to "bust" the steer, but Arnold emphasizes that this is all wrong. "If a steer gets hurt, chances are you'll get up. And with entry fees running from $250 to $1,000, the roper has to drop the steer right or lose money!"

"People who appreciate good horsemanship and the ability to handle a rope find steer roping their favorite event," says Arnold. It should certainly give this year's Windy Ryon crowd a thrill.

As in past years, the proceeds from the roping will benefit the American Heart Association. More than $44,000 has been raised over the past four years. Ticketing for the event begins at 1:30 p.m. each day.

Tickets at $5 per person each day will be available at the gate or from Amusement Ticket Service, Redway Inn, 111 W. Lancaster, Fort Worth, Texas, 817/355-5777. Texas-style barbecue and refreshments will be available on the grounds.
